Component Mission

The National Counterterrorism Center (NCTC) leads our nation's effort to combat terrorism at home and abroad by analyzing the threat, sharing that information with our partners, and integrating all instruments of national power to ensure unity of effort. The Center serves as the primary organization in the United States Government (USG) for analyzing and integrating all intelligence possessed or acquired by the USG pertaining to terrorism and counterterrorism, and its Director serves as the Counterterrorism Mission Manager. NCTC also serves as the central and shared knowledge bank on known and suspected terrorists and international terrorist groups, as well as their goals, strategies, capabilities, and networks of contacts and support. In addition, NCTC conducts strategic operational planning for counterterrorism activities, coordinating and integrating the efforts of departments and agencies across the Federal Government.

Major Duties and Responsibilities (MDRs)

- NCTC's National Intelligence Manager for Counterterrorism Office (NIM-CT) is looking to add an impact-focused and collaborative team member. NIM-CT works to align the Intelligence Community's (IC) direction with the National Security Strategy through the development of strategies and methodologies intended to guide IC CT collection and analysis. A significant portion of NIM-CT efforts deal with writing strategic products, collaborating and coordinating with ODNI and IC community offices, and keeping senior IC officials aware of enduring CT challenges. NIM-CT also serves as an advocate for the CT community's budget allocation requests through participation in the Intelligence Planning, Programming, and Budgeting Execution (IPBE) process.
- NIM-CT is looking for an active collaborator and team player who can support all aspects of product development in a strategically-focused environment. This person should have above-average writing skills in order to draft, edit, and review products viewed by senior IC and National Security Council (NSC) officials. Responsibilities include:
- Establishing relationships with offices throughout the ODNI and CT directorates/offices and all IC agencies.
- Understanding and advocating for resource allocations that enable the IC to effectively combat the diverse threat our nation faces.
- Maintaining insight and understanding of customer requirements related to CT intelligence gaps.
- Analyzing mission effectiveness of proposed NIP and MIP funded capability requirements through strategic planning, independent analyses, and program evaluation.
- Understanding CT capability gaps, potential mission or enterprise needs and intelligence capability proposals.
- Planning and executing studies and performance modeling of proposed IC CT capabilities.
- Analyzing data to support the development of alternative approaches for IC CT programs, requirements and budgets to establish priority objectives, address projected threats, estimate costs, risk and tradeoffs, and identify/minimize resource constraints. • Conducting in-depth analysis and evaluation of proposed NIP investments to independently document mission and cost effectiveness levels. • Conducting in-depth analysis of NIP policies, missions, plans, and capabilities, ensuring linkage to the NIS and other IC CT priorities. • Drafting presentations of findings, conclusions, options, and recommendations to NCTC, ODNI, and IC senior management. • Analyzing and evaluating (on a quantitative/qualitative basis) the effectiveness of current and planned NIP investments in meeting established IC CT goals and objectives.

Mandatory and Educational Requirements

- Significant writing and editing skills. • General knowledge of IC organizations' missions in order to develop the national-level strategies and policies necessary to support U.S. national security interests. • Understanding of the IC's planning and budgeting process. • Ability to communicate clearly, both orally and in written reports, and to logically analyze, synthesize, and evaluate multiple sources of information for their inclusion in briefings and written documents. • Organizational and interpersonal skills to facilitate diverse forums, manage competing priorities and advocate new ideas/concepts/processes; demonstrated ability to exercise independent judgment on time-sensitive issues and work collaboratively across the IC.

Desired Requirements

- Ability to conceptualize, organize, and draw inferences from incomplete data and present a compelling analysis of findings and issues; demonstrated ability to identify, articulate, document, and mitigate knowledge gaps or alternatives approaches.
